An example would be 'svchost.exe' - which doesn't appear in either under normal conditions but does via CTRL+ALT+DEL.. Pressing CTRL+ALT+DEL identifies programs that are currently running - not necessarily at startup.. It is possible to specify questions, set prerequisites and registry settings that the user will be able to choose at the installation time.. Development [] InstallShield was developed by The Stirling Group, a company founded in 1987 by Viresh Bhatia and Rick Harold, who had first met when they were computer science students.. This is NOT a list of tasks/processes taken from Task Manager or the Close Program window (CTRL+ALT+DEL) but a list of startup applications, although you will find some of them listed via this method.
